

MATTHEW STOLPER delivered two papers to the American Oriental Society: on the Elamite dynasty of Shimashki (Ann Arbor, Feb. 1981) and on the Murashû texts (in a symposium on Mesopotamian economic history, Boston, March 1981). A monograph on Middle Elamite administrative texts excavated at Tall-i Malyan, Iran, is in press. The draft of a survey of Elamite political history, to be published together with a survey of Elamite archeology by Elizabeth Carter of UCLA, is being edited and typed at Los Angeles.